UNIVERSAL PEACE! This remarkable painting by D. Montanari pictures the five races of mankind speeding through space to a better brotherhood of man. The work is an impressive one. HE FOUND IT. What old Ponce de Leon was looking for. "Uncle" John Shell, aged 131, of Greasy Creek, Kentucky, must have taken a Saturday night soaker in the fountain of youth. John is shown here with his five-year-old son, Jack. He (John) was too old to fight in the Civil War and remembers when George Washington died in 1799. He cannot read or write and weighs but 108 pounds. (c) Underwood & Underwood

New York Market Suffers Sharp Decline

9-POINT DROP IN SPECIALTIES

Downward Movement Is Accelerated by Execution of Stop-Loss Orders

By BRODAN WALL.

Big drop in price and sale of active stock in the New York Stock exchange yesterday.

Downward movement in the price of stocks yesterday and today, transactions involving more than a million and a quarter shares.

Stocks were offered at the expense of price throughout the session, the losses in standard issues ranging from one to three points and those in specialties from four to nine points, the maximum decline being in General Electric.

Professional traders sought unprotected issues and added them. The precipitous decline in the market attacked indiscriminately in other directions and sharp losses. The downward movement was accelerated by the execution of stop-loss orders.

Twice the market showed feeble signs of rallying but renewed the downward movement.

The close some support was extended and resulted in a rally but there was no use to two points from the lowest figures for the session but final quotations were near lowest level with the undertone heavy.

Liquidation was more pronounced in the industrial department and pressure in that direction was so heavy that it induced offering of the high grade railroad issues which in the instance of Reading lost as much as six points. Shipping shares were also under attack and scored sharp losses, the maximum decline being in Atlantic & West India.

Commission houses were busy tonight sending out more margin calls.

Selling in General Electric was unusually heavy, the stock at one showing a decline of more than ten points. For a high class investment issue the weakness was considered significant.

Working upon pioneer lines, they have been successful in obtaining the backing of over 1000 believers in the business and their ability to make it complete success.

RAILROAD MAY IMPORT HARDWOOD FOR TIES

It costs railroads an immense sum of money for railroad ties. At current prices, the price being at least 100 per cent. higher than before the war.

While oak ties are the best for ties but trees of the species are now so scarce that substitutes are sought. Experiments with other woods have been unsatisfactory, unless the material is subjected to expensive creosoting.

New the Pennsylvania Road, which uses from five to six million ties a year, is going to test the value of hard woods from Central and South America.

Cotton Markets

New York, Nov. 12.—Selling by Liverpool and spot houses contributed to cotton weakness at the market opening yesterday. A cold weather market was irregular in the afternoon and quiet also. The close was weak with a net decline of 10 to 12 points.
